Cole-Parmer Expands Environmental Testing Expertise

Find Zefon International, Environmental Express and more in Cole-Parmer booth #3125

Vernon Hills, IL—Cole-Parmer is fully equipped to assist Pittcon attendees with their air, water and soil quality testing needs. The company recently added Zefon International, a manufacturer of sampling equipment used to monitor indoor environmental, occupational health, and safety conditions, to its family of products. Zefon joins Environmental Express®, Oakton®, Jenway® and VapLock™ as part of Cole-Parmer’s test & measurement environmental testing portfolio.

All of these brands provide the solutions required to safely test the quality of either air, water or soil:

- Zefon offers air sampling equipment used to monitor indoor environmental, occupational health and safety conditions.
- Environmental Express has an entire range of laboratory products used in applications such as water/wastewater analysis, oil and grease analysis, metals analysis and hazardous waste analysis.
- Oakton is trusted for water quality measurement tools such as handheld portable meters, pocket testers, benchtop meters, and specialty pH/mV meters plus ISE and ISFET electrodes.
- Jenway is well-known for its spectrophotometers and cloud-enabled spectrophotometers with cloud data storage for material and physical testing and water quality analysis.
- VapLock solvent safety products for closed systems make it easy to improve laboratory safety by reducing exposure to vapors and hazardous solvent waste.

Experts from these brands will be available in the Cole-Parmer booth #3125 during the Pittcon exhibition, March 3 to 5, 2020, at McCormick Place in Chicago, IL. Attendees can see the latest innovative products for environmental testing and talk to experts about their own unique applications. Cole-Parmer will also showcase their latest products for biosciences, test & measurement and monitoring, and fluid handling.
